Goals of Systems Biology

- Map out the components of large scale biological networks that control cell processes.
- Explain how these components work together to
  - carry out cellular functions
  - “make cell decisions”
- Enable manipulation of these networks to provide therapies for disease.
- Enable modification of existing circuits or assembly of new circuits for
  - new therapies
  - bioengineering

Copyright © 2006 Nature Publishing Group
Nature Reviews | Immunology