Model fits show quantitative agreement between model and data across cell lines, drugs, and drug concentrations

